Port Highlights

Halifax, founded in 1749, is a community and former city in the Canadian province of Nova Scotia. For most of its early history, Halifax was the primary North Atlantic base for the Royal Navy, it prospered during times of conflict and languished during times of peace. Sir Samuel Cunard, 1st Baronet was a Canadian born British shipping magnate. Cunard was born in Halifax, Nova Scotia, the son of a master carpenter and timber merchant who had fled the American Revolution and settled in Halifax. Samuel's business skills were evident at an early age and by age 17 he was managing his own general store. He later joined his father in the family timber business which he expanded into coal, iron, shipping and whaling. During the War of 1812, Cunard volunteered for service in the 2nd battalion of the Halifax Regiment of militia and rose to the rank of captain. A highly successful entrepreneur in Halifax shipping, Samuel Cunard went to the United Kingdom where he set up a joint venture with several other businessmen to bid on the rights to run a transatlantic shipping company between the UK and North America.
