Bruce Hammond is "Sinatra Live"

Bruce earned his Bachelors Degree in Theatre Performance from Western Michigan University. After a three-year stint as an apprentice at the prestigious Barn Theatre in Augusta Michigan, he earned his Actors Equity Card. Since then he has been actively involved in various performance venues around the world, including the title roles in the world premiers of "Billy the Kid" and "The Dybukks Revenge." He also toured nationally with the production of "South Pacific" as Luther Billis. Bruce also produced, wrote and directed the musical "Nonstop Doowop."

After moving to New York City, he became a member of a new project for Phillip Springer ("Santa Baby") where he was the lead vocalist in "Requiem Of An Artist." One of the great highlights in his career was traveling to Monaco where he was lead performer for a special event honoring the Prince of Monaco that was hosted by Ewan McGregor.

Actively involved in the SAG union as well, Bruce has multiple television, film and commercial credits to his name. One of his all time favorite awards is for Best Actor for his role of Johnny Vegas in "Milos Opus," for the international 48-hour film festival.

Always a huge fan of Mr. Sinatra, Bruce has toured the US and Canada with his production of "Sinatra Live" for the past seven years. He also appears regularly in Las Vegas and around the country as Frank in "The Rat Pack Is Back".

For Bruce, nothing could be better than emulating the most popular singer of the 20th century, and he humbly admits that headlining for Crystal is a dream come true. He applauds everyone who supports and recognizes this amazing genre of music.
